(Proclamation)

A Year of general peace and prosperity is drawing to a close: during this period our young State has steadily advanced in her rapid career towards wealth and population. Her resources have been developed, her commerce has grown, and her industry has flourished. In the midst of this progress, the people have been blessed with the fruits of peace and happiness. It is the duty of the Government to express its gratitude for these blessings, and to assure the people of its continued efforts to promote their welfare. The year has been marked by the successful completion of many important projects, and the people are entitled to feel proud of the achievements of their State. The Government will continue to work for the betterment of the people, and to ensure that the fruits of progress are shared by all.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be hereunto affixed this 10th day of September 1856. Col. Bushford

Proclamation

For a year of singular fruitfulness; for the continued blessings of peace; for immunity from hostilities; for the favoring providence that has cast our lot in this pleasant land; and for all the manifold tokens of the Divine bounty vouchsafed us, a common sentiment of unfeigned and heartfelt gratitude must pervade every breast.

From an early period in our Colonial history in most of the States a day has been designated, annually for purposes of public thanksgiving & the acknowledgements of the good gifts of the Common Benefactor, and in compliance with this long established and time honored custom, I hereby recommend that Thursday the Twenty Sixth day of November be thus observed throughout the State.

L. S.

In testimony whereof I have herewith subscribed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed.
